DUE: 9/24

Introduction

In this assignment, you will have to collect 10 sources and begin the process of gathering usable information from those papers. You can use the same sources from the previous assignments or include new sources. Be sure to show the original information and then paraphrase it. I'm not just grading your ability to gather information. Part of this assignment will be to see if any plagiarism issues may occur in future assignments. For this paper, improperly citing will negatively impact your grade, but will not result in any academic misconduct charge.

Requirements

- (1) At least 10 sources for your paper.
  - At least 6 from economic journal articles (not books).
  - 2 news sources from reputable news organizations.
  - 2 sources from books, academic journals, think tanks, etc.
  - See "List of Economics Journals" and "Economic Think Tanks" in "Course Material" tab on Blackboard.
- (2) Three points from each source copied and pasted as originally published.
- (3) Underneath the copy and paste, paraphrase the point and give the in-text citation.
- (4) Keep the three points from each source together.
- (5) MLA format (see "MLA guidelines" in "Course Material" tab on Blackboard).
- (6) Include a work cited page at the end of your working notes. Any sources in the work cited should be cited in the working notes.
- (7) Title
  - Make your topic the title of your assignment.
  - The title should also indicate that these are your working notes
